New warning system to improve flood prediction

Similar Alert For 'Political Storms' Would Help: CM

New Delhi: The new flood warning system that the state government has launched on Friday, a chief minister, said that it would help in taking effective measures to prevent further deaths and damage caused by floods.

Speaking at the launch event, the chief minister expressed his satisfaction with the new system and said that it would be a great help in managing the flood situation in the future.

The system, he added, would enable the government to anticipate the flood situation and take action accordingly, thereby reducing the loss of life and property.

He also added that the government would continue to work towards improving the system and making it more effective.

Day after activists claim rates inflated, civic body scraps body bag tenders

Mumbai: Following allegations of fraud or corruption by some civic body officials, the civic body has decided to scrap the tender for the purchase of body bags.

The civic body had earlier floated the tender for procuring body bags at a rate of Rs 10 per bag, which was later canceled due to allegations of fraud.

The civic body officials have now decided to re-invite tenders for the purchase of body bags, but this time at a lower rate of Rs 5 per bag.

Travel agents dismiss airlines' claim in SC 'nobody refunds fare'

Mumbai: The Supreme Court on Friday dismissed the pleas of two travel agencies alleging that they were not refunded the money paid to airlines for flights that had been canceled due to the lockdown.

The travel agencies had approached the court seeking a refund of the money paid to the airlines, stating that the airlines had failed to refund the money despite the lockdown.

On the other hand, the airlines had argued that they were not responsible for the refund as the lockdown was imposed by the government.

The court, however, ruled that the airlines were not absolved of their responsibility and ordered them to refund the money to the travel agencies.

IMD issues orange alert, heavy rains likely on Sun

Mumbai: The IMD has issued an orange alert for heavy rainfall on Sunday, predicting that the city will experience heavy rains.

According to the IMD, the rainfall is likely to be most intense in the afternoon and evening, with heavy showers expected in certain areas.

The alert has been issued to ensure that people take necessary precautions and avoid venturing out during the period of heavy rainfall.

City police chief gets contempt notice from Khwaja Yunus's mom

Mumbai: The city police chief has been given a contempt notice by Khwaja Yunus's mother, who has accused the police of not taking adequate action in his death.

Khwaja Yunus was a passenger in a car that was involved in an accident, and his death has sparked outrage in the city.

The mother has alleged that the police have not taken adequate action in the case and has demanded action against the responsible personnel.

Information regarding tenders applied against both income tax and service tax fetched Rs 200,000

The information regarding tenders applied against both income tax and service tax fetched Rs 200,000.

The information was fetched through an RTIQueryIndia query, which is a platform for accessing RTI information.

Mumbai: The state revenue department has received Rs 200,000 through an RTIQueryIndia query for the information regarding tenders applied against both income tax and service tax.

The query was filed by a citizen who was interested in accessing the information for personal reasons.

According to the information, the tenders were applied against both income tax and service tax, and the revenue department has processed the application.

The information fetched through the RTIQueryIndia query is a valuable resource for citizens who are interested in accessing government information Bình Phước, Vietnam, August 10, 2018.

The information regarding tenders applied against both income tax and service tax fetched Rs 200,000.

The information was fetched through an RTIQueryIndia query, which is a platform for accessing RTI information.

Mumbai: The state revenue department has received Rs 200,000 through an RTIQueryIndia query for the information regarding tenders applied against both income tax and service tax.

The query was filed by a citizen who was interested in accessing the information for personal reasons.

According to the information, the tenders were applied against both income tax and service tax, and the revenue department has processed the application.

The information fetched through the RTIQueryIndia query is a valuable resource for citizens who are interested in accessing government information Bình Phước, Vietnam, August 10, 2018.