Members of Namami Ganga programme perform 'aarti' on the banks of Ganga in Varanasi on Sunday to mark the seventh anniversary of the government led by PM Narendra Modi

During his Mann Ki Baat programme, the Prime Minister spoke to three people involved with transporting oxygen cylinders and containers, and listened to their experiences and challenges during the recent crisis when many parts of the country faced severe shortage of medical-grade oxygen.

He also pointed to the government completing seven years in office and highlighted signature initiatives, including power connections to all households and the Jal Jeevan mission to provide tap water to all rural homes.

"In the midst of this pandemic, India is moving forward with the resolve of service and cooperation," he added. Modi pointed to the scheme to provide tap water connection to every rural household in the country by 2024 under Jal Jeevan Mission and said it had made strong progress without any break during the pandemic.

"In the seven decades after independence, only 3.5 crore rural homes of our country had water connections. However, in the last 21 months, 4.5 crore households have been given clean water connections. Of these, 15 months were of the corona period," he noted.

The Prime Minister also noted the contribution of

Amid Covid, BJP Marks 7th Anniv In A Low-Key Fashion

New Delhi: When Narendra Modi completed seven years as Prime Minister on Sunday, it was a record by a non-Congress CM. But with the country still facing the second wave of the Covid-19 pandemic, BJP chose to mark the achievement in a low-key fashion.

Party brass declared it an occasion to help with Covid prevention and send relief to affected families. Senior party figures — defence minister Rajnath Singh, home minister Amit Shah and BJP chief J P Nadda — listed the achievements of the Modi government and termed them as flowing from the party's commitment to the country.

PM Modi's Nako app shared a brief account of key achievements of the government starting from "ease of doing business" to the country's fight against Covid-19, farmers' and women empowerment, eliminating corruption, etc. "PM Modi's vision of doubling farmers' income by 2022 can be seen in the initiatives taken by the government. With focus on farmers, this government believes in empowering annadats in every way possible," an article shared on the app said.

The app quoted Modi, "We decided, right from day one, to attack the menace of corruption. Someone had to make a start somewhere, we decided to do this, without caring for political consequences."

Shah said, "PM Modi has always made it clear that his aim as well as the government's purpose is to serve 135 crore Indians. The spirit of 'seva' has been a guiding light for the government."

"In the past seven years, the Modi government has written a new chapter in the country's development, good governance and laying Infrastructure. Modi's guidance is ushering a new era of empowering the poorest of poor," Rajnath Singh added.

In a series of tweets, Nadda said Modi's leadership and guidance had paved the way for "Atmanirbhar Bharat". "Today, scores of our workers will do public service in 1 lakh villages," he tweeted.

NDA came to power in 2014 with BJP winning 282 seats. Riding on the work of its first term, the BJP-led NDA government was re-elected in 2019 with BJP winning 303 seats.

7 yrs of immeasurable pain, says Congress, lists govt's '7 blunders'

Times News Network

New Delhi: The Modi government had caused immeasurable pain and suffering to Indians and betrayed their trust, Congress said Sunday as the NDA government completed seven years in office.

Listing out seven "blunders" by the government, from a falling economy to mishandling of the Covid pandemic, lack of oxygen, rising unemployment and government's inability to rein in foreign incursions on Indian soil, Congress spokesperson Randeep Surjewala said the seven years accounted for "immeasurable pain, insurmountable devastation and untamable agony and anguish for a nation of 140 crore people".

Sena slams Centre, calls for introspection

Shiv Sena MP Sanjay Raut on Sunday said India is surviving as a nation due to the good deeds of previous governments since the time of Nehru, and the present Modi government needs to introspect if it has been able to fulfil basic needs of people.

"The country is surviving on the good deeds of previous governments since the time of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru to Manmohan Singh... When you get majority, it means people have handed you power with faith and trust. The people's needs and demands are very few. They need livelihood, Roti, kapda makan (food, clothing and shelter) are important along with health and education facilities," he said, adding the Centre should "introspect" if this has been achieved.

is responsible for insurmountable devastation, agony and anguish and untamable pain that has been inflicted on the people of India," he added.

Congress also released a seven-point chargesheet accusing the Modi government of abdicating its responsibility to people. MP Rahul Gandhi slammed the government for its alleged "misgovernance". Rahul said the government needed to have the right intention, policy and determination to fight the pandemic, not just "monthly Mann Ki Baat".

Congress also defended its poor performance in elections and said its poor performance was to save the nation from the "Modi-made disaster".
