Domestic Environment – Polymers and Polyester Demand

1. Polymer demand up 16% YoY
  - PE demand up 29% led by growth in pipes, FMCG, pharma and e-commerce food packaging
  - PP and PVC demand up with boost in consumer durables, automotive, agriculture, infrastructure projects

2. Polyester demand up 5% YoY
  - PET demand up 11% due to seasonal factors and delayed monsoon
  - PSF demand down 8% as market sentiments remained soft with decline in cotton prices

Healthy domestic demand supported by strong consumption and infrastructure development

Source: RIL internal estimates
1. YoY Polymer deltas down with subdued global demand and new supplies with China’s bid for self-sufficiency
   ✓ PVC delta down 35% with normalized supplies from US and China; PVC prices also corrected by 40%
   ✓ PP delta impacted by ramp-up of new China capacities

2. QoQ polymers deltas witnessed mixed trends
   ✓ PP and PE delta over Naphtha up 4% & 17% respectively
     ▪ Stable demand and weak naphtha price supported margins
   ✓ PVC delta over Naphtha and EDC down 23% led by firm EDC prices

3. QoQ US Ethane prices down 16%, benefiting ethane cracking
   ✓ RIL optimized Naphtha and Ethane mix for better fuel and feedstock economics

Lower feedstock prices and stable demand supported QoQ polymer margins
1. YoY polyester chain delta down 3% in well-supplied downstream market

✓ Downstream polyester margins declined due to weak global demand and slower recovery in China

2. QoQ polyester chain delta up 11%

✓ PX margin improved 22% due to turnaround season and recovery in gasoline demand

✓ Recovery in PTA (+29%) and MEG (+53%) deltas from low base with decline in feedstock prices
Regional Business Environment – Gasoil

1. Global gasoil demand up ~0.3 mb/d QoQ to 28.4 mb/d
   - Higher demand growth from Asia (↑550 kb/d), Middle East (↑33 kb/d) offset falling demand in West

2. Gasoil cracks declined QoQ, due to
   - Low industrial activities in EU and US on weak macro
   - Supply from new refinery builds and continued availability of Russian diesel

3. 1Q FY23 spike due to Russia-Ukraine conflict and gas-to-oil switching

Fall in Gasoil cracks led by weak macro-economic factors and ample supply

Regional Business Environment – Jet/Kero

1. Global Jet/kero demand rose ~ 0.33 mb/d Q-o-Q to 7.2 mb/d, with incremental demand mainly from China (↑190 kb/d) and US (↑140 kb/d)

- Jet fuel cracks moderating inline with gasoil cracks
- Global ATF demand still 6% below 2019 average with lagging Asia demand

2. Strong 1Q FY23 with tight middle distillate markets

- Uncertainty over Russian exports due to EU/US sanctions
- Easing of covid restrictions on air travel

Jet kero cracks eased with higher inventories and decline in gasoil cracks

Source: Platts, Energy Aspects
Gasoline cracks remained firm with lower Chinese exports and US demand

1. Global gasoline demand rose by ~0.9 mb/d QoQ to 26.8 mb/d with strong demand growth from US (↑ 0.42 mb/d) and China (↑ 0.24 mb/d)

2. Gasoline cracks moderated Q-o-Q despite strong demand

✓ Resilient Russian flows and growing supplies from new refineries kept market well-supplied

3. Strength in 1Q FY23 was led by disruption due to Russia-Ukraine conflict and strong recovery in mobility demand

Agile feed-mix and product mix optimization in volatile market scenario

1. Cyclone Biparjoy impact was minimized by depleting inventory
2. Planned FCC feed hydrotreater shutdown and Dahej Cracker shutdown were completed during the quarter
3. Arbitrage feedstock sourcing was preferred over regional crudes that were available at higher differentials
4. Gasoline netback maximized by supplying to US market to capture improved arbitrage with summer demand
5. Ensured higher Gasifier availability, eliminated LNG imports and minimized energy cost by fuel mix optimization

Demand

1. Oil demand estimated to average 102.1 mb/d in 2023, up 2.2 mb/d YoY despite macro headwinds - China to account for 70% of total demand growth in 2023
2. Summer driving season in major markets with increased tourism to keep oil demand higher
3. Recovery in China’s international air travel during summer holidays to lift Jet demand
4. Indian downstream chemical demand expected to reflect robust economic growth

Margin

1. Strong demand and limited Chinese exports to keep fuel cracks supported
2. New supply from China to cap near term product spread recovery for downstream chemicals

Risk Factors

1. Voluntary oil production cut by OPEC+ countries may keep crude prices elevated and impact demand
2. High inflation, subdued global demand, increased supply from China may affect Indian downstream export to US and Europe
